

To be published preferably in April issue:

www.gartentage-freising-weihenstephan.de

Gartentage / Garden days in Freising-Weihenstephan

Freising is not only the home of Bavaria's "green" universities but also of the oldest and most famous Gartentage / garden days in southern Germany. After just a year's break, garden days are now scheduled to take place here again. As usual, the date is based on Mother's Day weekend, but when looking for the ideal location, the new organizers found what they were looking for right in the heart of the universities in the Weihenstephan district, on campus between the library, cafeteria and central lecture hall building. There is also a generous amount of parking space here.

In collaboration with TUM (Technical University Munich, School of Life Sciences) as well as HSWT (Highschool Weihenstephan-Triesdorf) among other things high-level lectures and tours of the show gardens are offered. Together with many high-quality exhibitors and a musical accompaniment, on the weekend of May 10th/11th 2025 Freising is definitely worth a trip for garden lovers.